

Hello Business Leaders,

for over 100 years, you have been following the same path and putting profits above everything else: Above the environment, above the community, above the well-being of people.

Yet not only our planet, but also society shows us more than clearly that this path has no future. We need a change in the economic system. An approach that includes the needs of all.

As B Corporations, we show that this does work. We break the boundaries of the current status quo and go beyond. Not through big phrases, but through the permanent and measurable improvement of our ecological and social performance.

We, that's over 6500 companies worldwide. We are a global movement that is growing steadily and working every day to transform the global economy into a more inclusive, equitable and regenerative system.

It is no longer time to just talk, it is time to act. Time to transform the power of the economy into a force for good. Toward transparent climate protection, fair supply chains and global cooperation. But to achieve this, everyone has to join in - from the smallest start-ups through to the largest corporations.

As B Corporations, we work hand in hand. Without claiming to be perfect. But with the determination to learn from each other, the commitment to involve all stakeholders, and the ambition to constantly improve. And one thing above all: to take action.

We are B Corps. And we go beyond. Join us and become part of the worldwide B Corp movement!
